

Please implement no proposal that would weaken the protection afforded by Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. Indiana's law has improved the quality of my time at home immeasurably, protecting my valuable time from interruptions and intrusions by unwanted tele-marketing calls. Anecdotally, before the enactment of Indiana's law, I have actually cut short important telephone calls under the mistaken notion that they were tele-marketing calls. With the protection of Indiana's law, I can approach every telephone call received as one that is valuable and important to me and my family.
